

"WILL NOT MEET VIOLENCE WITH VIOLENCE"

GERMANY GIVES HER STAND TO AMERICA REGARDING FRENCH

TEUTONS DENY FRENCH RIGHT UNDER VERSAILLES PACT TO INVADE RUHR

CALLS IT OPPRESSION VIOLATING TREATY AND INTERNATIONAL LAW

(By United Press)

Washington, Jan. 12.—Germany has given her word to the United States that as a result of the French occupation of the Ruhr she will not "meet violence with violence."

This and the fact that Germany declares she will not renounce the Versailles treaty were the outstanding points in a note from the Berlin government protesting against French invasion of the Ruhr.

While the note is an appeal to the United States to place her influence on the side of Germany, this government is contemplating no action as a result of it.

It feels that it has done all it can do to prevent the present situation. The administration now is giving consideration to demands in the senate for withdrawal of the American observer of the reparations commission, Rowland W. Boyden, but a definite decision has not been reached.

After denying the French right under the treaty of Versailles to invade the Ruhr, the German note which was delivered to the state department last night, thus announces the policy of Germany during the occupation:

"The German government herewith extends a protest against the oppression applied toward Germany in a contradiction to the treaty and international law. The German government does not intend to meet violence with violence, nor to reply to the breach of the treaty with a withdrawal of the treaty. However, as long as the state of affairs contrary to the treaty exists, Germany is not in a position to make actual reparations to those powers who have brought about this state of affairs."

Charge International Communist Plot

Paris, Jan. 12.—An international communist plot which was to bring the Bolshevik army across Germany to the banks of the Rhine and thence into France was charged today against Deputy Cachin and communist leaders arrested in the Thursday roundup.

Minister of justice filed a request that the chamber of deputies raise Cachin's parliamentary immunity so that he might be arrested and prosecuted on this charge.

Cachin, Monmousseau, Semard and Treint are to be accused of fostering a revolution in Germany in which the Russian army was to intervene. It is charged that Treint stated that if the red army reached the Rhine, French communists would open the gates of their towns to them.

The police claim to have uncovered a plot of international communists including those of Russia, France, Germany, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Holland and Sweden to stir up revolutionary troops in Germany and Poland, basing their action on the Ruhr occupation. This would give the Russian red army an excuse to march through Poland into Germany and intervene, aiding the proletarian revolution.

Essen Quiet Today

Essen, Jan. 12.—Essen was quiet today.

During the night, the French withdrew from the heart of the city, and when citizens appeared about their duties this morning they encountered only an occasional blue coated sentry pacing the down town streets.

The bulk of the invading forces had been withdrawn to the suburbs. The absence of tanks, armored cars and machine guns was marked. German traffic police were in charge throughout the city.

GREAT NORTHERN SHOPMEN STRIKE MAY BE CALLED OFF SOON IT IS REPORTED

(By United Press)

St. Paul, Jan. 12.—Striking Great Northern shop crafts workers will begin returning to work Monday.

The strike was officially called off at a mass meeting on recommendations of union heads. R. A. Henning, district shop crafts chief, explained the situation fully to about 1,000 strikers.

The men, who have been out since July 1 last year will return to work in the order of their seniority as fast as vacancies occur, according to officials. Negotiations looking to a similar settlement of the Northern Pacific strike are under way. A settlement is expected within a few days. Union officials predicted most of the strikers men who had acted sullenly when the city first was seized, were apparently engrossed in an effort to master their resentment.

Stiff German smiles were exchanged as occasional groups of French officers appeared.

The French commandeered the Kaiserhoff Hotel.

Uneasiness was expressed regarding what might transpire tomorrow which is pay day when the miners come in, who have been accustomed to coming in from the coal fields and drinking rather heavily. The government's action in guaranteeing the miners pay has somewhat relieved the situation, however.

The ammonia producers union and also the customs office has removed its papers and books from Bochum, fearing an invasion by the French. It has been unofficially reported the next move of the Ruhr force would be to enter Bochum. Early today there was no evidence that the French had marched beyond Essen.

Ignore "Invitation"

Essen, Jan. 12.—Hugo Stinnes, Dr. Krupp Von Bohlen and other coal barons of the Ruhr today ignored the Franco-Belgian "invitation" in reality an order to attend a meeting on coal distribution.

District President Gruetzner, who is not a member of the coal syndicate which hastily moved its headquarters from Essen when the French invasion began, was the only prominent industrialist present.

The allies notified the Ruhr mine administrators and workers they must obey orders of the army of occupation and not those of Berlin.

General Simon attended the meeting and read orders concerning the distribution of coal. Nothing was said about the flight of the coal syndicates directors with their books. The Germans demanded that everything be put in writing.

France Modifies Collection Plan

Paris, Jan. 12.—France has modified her plan for collecting cash reparations from Germany, and is willing to consider a moratorium on the basis proposed by Premier Mussolini of Italy, it was learned from semi-official circles today.

The next payment is due Monday. The reparations commission will meet tomorrow to consider Germany's request for a moratorium. A majority vote will decide, so if France, Belgium and Italy agree, Great Britain cannot hinder their move.

Editor's Note.—The above dispatch refers to cash reparations, not reparations in kind which the French entered the Ruhr to collect.

France and Belgium today sent experts to study measures for forcing coal deliveries from the Ruhr.

will be back at work within three weeks.

St. Paul, Jan. 12.—Great Northern shopmen are ready to return to work. Although no formal vote was taken, more than 1,000 former shop workers of the road endorsed the decision of union officials in calling off the strike which has been in effect since July 1.

The workers met last night at Trades Union hall and heard the situation fully explained by R. A. Henning, district chief of the shop workers. The workers will be taken back as fast as vacancies occur, according to Ralph Budd, president of the Great Northern.

BILLS LEVELED AGAINST K. K. K.

MEASURES PROHIBIT THEIR OPERATION OR ANY KINDRED ORGANIZATION IN MINN.

(By United Press)

St. Paul, Jan. 12.—Measures prohibiting operation of the Ku Klux Klan or any kindred organization in Minnesota are being prepared in the state legislature.

It is the first legislation of this kind ever proposed in the state.

Miss Myrtle Cain, woman representative from Minneapolis, is expected to introduce a bill in the house late today barring hooded organizations. A similar measure is being prepared in the senate.

While the Ku Klux Klan is not specifically mentioned in either bill, the measures provide for punishment of anyone "wearing hoods or disguise to conceal their identity."

The North Dakota legislature is expected to pass a bill of this character prohibiting any one over 15 years of age wearing a mask of any kind.

New York Alley Cat, Groomed by Children, Wins First Prize

New York, Jan. 12.—Snoozer Boy is just a common old cat from the can filled alleys of the east side. But Snoozer Boy today is about the best cat in New York.

With ribs sticking out like a washboard, Snoozer was picked up a year ago by "Little Joe" and Antoinette, "Big Joe" Frascotta's kids.

One year of careful ministrations and good feeding worked wonders with Snoozer. Last night he returned to his old haunts with a medal that he had won at the Waldorf Astoria hotel. Most cats of his acquaintance couldn't get within a mile of the classy Waldorf.

Snoozer was declared by the judges at the Atlantic Cat club show to be the best cat exhibited in the nonchampionship class, and they gave him first prize.

He named Dr. B. M. McKoin and Captain J. K. Skipwith as being in the band of black masked men. Previously Dade admitted he was a former clansman.

LOOPHOLES IN LAW FOIL ARREST MOVE IN PROFITEER CASE

ASSISTANT CITY ATTORNEY DECLINES TO ISSUE WARRANT IN CASE

AFTER PROFITEERS NET 6,000 PER CENT ON OLD POTATOES SALE

Minneapolis, Jan. 12.—State authorities encountered huge loopholes in existing laws and ordinances which thwarted them when they asked a warrant for the arrest of a Minneapolis wholesaler who sold old potatoes as new, which were disposed of to consumers at 6,000 per cent profit over the price paid the producer.

Thomas Kilbride, assistant city attorney, to whom N. J. Moriarity, food inspector, representing Chris Heen, state dairy and food commissioner, appealed for a warrant, declined to issue it on the ground that no existing law or ordinance had been violated.

The facts in the case, according to John H. Hay, deputy agricultural department commissioner, and Mr. Heen, are these:

A potato broker purchased potatoes from a producer at Grand Rapids, Minn., for one-third of a cent a pound.

The tubers were billed to a Minneapolis wholesaler, the broker obtaining the normal commission paid a broker.

The wholesaler billed the potatoes to his trade at 14 cents a pound, representing them as new potatoes.

The retailers sold them as high as 20 cents a pound.

The state dairy and food department sought the complaint under an ordinance which prohibits false advertising, since there is no law prohibiting profiteering. Mr. Kilbride held that no advertising was involved on the part of the guilty wholesaler, who simply billed his potatoes to the retailers. The charge of obtaining money under false pretenses would not stand up in court, he said, because the retailer, who obtained a profit over and above the price paid the wholesaler, suffered no loss.

The retailers sold them as high as 20 cents a pound.

The state dairy and food department sought the complaint under an ordinance which prohibits false advertising, since there is no law prohibiting profiteering. Mr. Kilbride held that no advertising was involved on the part of the guilty wholesaler, who simply billed his potatoes to the retailers. The charge of obtaining money under false pretenses would not stand up in court, he said, because the retailer, who obtained a profit over and above the price paid the wholesaler, suffered no loss.

and into manhood, unaided by friend or relative.

To his intimate friends he has recounted his experiences as a traveling salesman in Wisconsin, in the early sixties, when railroad lines were few and horse-drawn vehicles carried on the commerce of this sparsely settled frontier region.

He moved to Brainerd in 1883 and engaged in the retail furniture business, in which he continued until his retirement six years ago. Mr. Patek's later years were made happy through the appreciation of his intimate friends. With the wisdom of a long life, was linked a youthful alertness, that kept him abreast of the times and made his comradeship attractive even to people, many years younger.

Brainerd people will miss Mr. Patek, but will also rejoice in the many years of intimate association they have had with this sturdy citizen.

Mrs. Henry I. Cohen and Mr. Patek accompanied the remains to Milwaukee, and were met in Minneapolis by Harry Patek, of Keokuk, Iowa.

IN MUNICIPAL COURT

Hubbard Fined $10 for Reckless Driving—Police Trail Rumor of Accidental Shooting

In municipal court Thursday afternoon, Thomas Hubbard was found guilty of recklessly driving a horse through the streets of Brainerd, and paid a fine of $10.

Hubbard was riding a horse belonging to Peter Jones, junk dealer, when he collided with an automobile being driven by Joseph Jones.

The collision occurred just at the noon hour, a dangerous time to be handling a horse carelessly, with many school children on the streets, was the ruling of the court.

Police were kept busy Thursday and Friday in an effort to run down a rumor that a boy had been shot seven times while skating at the municipal rink Wednesday.

This report came in over the grapevine route and Chief Erick Graff traced it back step by step to its source, only to find that it originated by a slight accident in which one of the youngsters had taken a fall at the rink, sustaining only a slight bruise.

From this small beginning the story had taken added proportions with each telling, until it made a good murder tale by the time it reached the police.

The municipal rink is well policed at all times, and there is little or no danger of any shooting affairs during the hours of skating.

Whittier Parent-Teachers in Resolutions So Inform Managers Local Picture Shows

BOY SCOUT WORK EXPLAINED

Carl Zapffe Shows How It Instills Obedience, Manliness, Caution Etc.

The Whittier Parent-Teachers' Association held a most interesting and spirited meeting Tuesday evening, about forty people being present. The address of the evening was given by Carl Zapffe. In a forceful and convincing manner he showed that Boy Scout training instills or develops, as no other agency does, the qualities that parents desire in their boys, namely, obedience, manliness, caution, pluck, tenacity, observation and the ability to think for himself.

By a very interesting sketch, Mr. Zapffe brought out a very strong point, that at an age when home, school and church influences may be slight in the boy's life, Scout training and the associations present in a wholesome form the very elements that are not offered elsewhere.

The second subject of interest that came before the meeting was a group of resolutions that had been drawn up by a committee from the association and sent to the school board last spring. These resolutions were read and a discussion of each one followed.

A number of interesting facts were brought out in this discussion. It was shown that more attention has been paid to cleaning the school building, that additional wash bowls and drinking fountains have been installed, that the teachers' salaries were not lowered and that the music supervisor has the use of the public health car one afternoon each week when she goes to the Mill school and to West Brainerd.

The above group of resolutions will be brought up again at the next meeting. A motion was unanimously carried that the managers of the moving picture houses be informed that this association opposes the showing of any pictures in which "Fatty" Arbuckle is featured.

The musical numbers of the evening were exceptionally fine. Miss Alice R. Johnstone, violinist, with Mrs. Johnstone at the piano, played with beautiful tone three songs from a group named, "A Lover In Damascus."

Miss Gladys Nitterauer gave two brilliant piano numbers, "Juba Dance" by Dett, and "Valse Caprice" by Cyril Scott.

The meetings of the association hereafter will begin promptly at 7:45, and everyone interested in the success of the Whittier school is invited and urged to attend each one.

"GARFIELD" NAME FOR SCHOOL

School Presented with Fine Flag, Gift of Pap Thomas Post and Ladies Auxiliary

The Mill school Parent-Teachers organization held their monthly meeting on Wednesday night and enjoyed a very fine program.

A great deal of interest was taken in selecting a new name for this school building. Several were suggested and the matter was put to a vote, resulting in the name of "Garfield" being chosen, and the school will be known by that term hereafter.

Miss Bloomstrom and Miss Sterns rendered a piano and saxophone duet, responding to an encore. Mrs. Rose Powell gave an interesting talk on "Story Telling," illustrating with a story which caused much merriment.

The school was presented with a fine large flag, the gift of Pap Thomas Post, G. A. R., and their ladies auxiliary. Albert Fox, district commander, made the presentation, address, and recounted some of the Civil War battles in which he took an active part. J. A. Wilson, adjutant of the local G. A. R. Post, and former County Superintendent of Schools, gave an interesting talk on "Minnesota Education."

The Misses Walstrom and Stanley sang "Whispering Hope," showing much talent for young voices.

Miss Roderick's pupils gave a splendid drill and deserve much credit for the way in which it was carried out.

Following the program a fine luncheon was served and a short social hour enjoyed. The committee wishes to thank all who contributed to the success of the meeting.

Whittier Parent-Teachers in Resolutions So Inform Managers Local Picture Shows

BOY SCOUT WORK EXPLAINED

Carl Zapffe Shows How It Instills Obedience, Manliness, Caution Etc.

The Whittier Parent-Teachers Association held a most interesting and spirited meeting Tuesday evening, about forty people being present. The address of the evening was given by Carl Zapffe. In a forceful and convincing manner he showed that Boy Scout training instills or develops, as no other agency does, the qualities that parents desire in their boys, namely, obedience, manliness, caution, pluck, tenacity, observation and the ability to think for himself.

By a very interesting sketch, Mr. Zapffe brought out a very strong point, that at an age when home, school and church influences may be slight in the boy's life, Scout training and the associations present in a wholesome form the very elements that are not offered elsewhere.

The second subject of interest that came before the meeting was a group of resolutions that had been drawn up by a committee from the association and sent to the school board last spring. These resolutions were read and a discussion of each one followed.

A number of interesting facts were brought out in this discussion. It was shown that more attention has been paid to cleaning the school building, that additional wash bowls and drinking fountains have been installed, that the teachers' salaries were not lowered and that the music supervisor has the use of the public health car one afternoon each week when she goes to the Mill school and to West Brainerd.

The above group of resolutions will be brought up again at the next meeting. A motion was unanimously carried that the managers of the moving picture houses be informed that this association opposes the showing of any pictures in which "Fatty" Arbuckle is featured.

The musical numbers of the evening were exceptionally fine. Miss Alice R. Johnstone, violinist, with Mrs. Johnstone at the piano, played with beautiful tone three songs from a group named, "A Lover In Damascus."

Miss Gladys Nitterauer gave two brilliant piano numbers, "Juba Dance" by Dett, and "Valse Caprice" by Cyril Scott.

The meetings of the association hereafter will begin promptly at 7:45, and everyone interested in the success of the Whittier school is invited and urged to attend each one.

OUR AMERICAN NAVY

BUT recently the American navy was used for the purpose that reflects credit upon the United States. Thousands of Greeks, driven from their homes by the victorious advance of the Turks, were huddled together at the water's edge awaiting an opportunity to escape from the threat of brutal treatment that was hanging over their heads, and these were taken aboard American war vessels, where they were given every attention and then conveyed to points of safety.

At this time, when those who are interested in conserving the world's peace, are in many cases seeking to obstruct any measures that are taken to hold the navy at a high point of efficiency, it would be well for citizens to correctly appraise a navy's values and uses. Despite the argument that militarism may be built up as a response to some other country's increase in naval strength, it must be borne in mind that a navy is a defensive, not an offensive weapon. The development of militarism, or large armies, because some other country is building up its navy is not excusable when the facts are all in. Navalism represents a country's attitude to national defense, militarism indicates a policy that holds within it an implied threat of conquest.

Because a navy is a defensive weapon it is unwise for any nation to allow its fleet to become depleted or obsolete so long as other nations are holding multitudes of men under arms, so that, at any time, they may be turned against a people who happens to provoke anger through some international decision.

Of course it would be splendid if we could scrap the ships as it would be fine if we could save the cost of a police department, but while such decisions would be splendid and fine in given conditions, those conditions have not yet arrived. When human nature becomes perfect we won't need any laws, and a society that needs not law will not require officers to enforce laws that are no longer necessary. This is obviously true of the wider relations between nation and nation. But so long as conditions are what they are, they must be taken for what they are, and not as idealistic, which they are not.

Secretaries Denby and Roosevelt should have the backing of Americans in their demand that the navy be kept up to the best standard of this age, while these continue to hope that by sensible adjustments, and an improvement in the temper of the peoples, the navies of the world may be reduced to the limit of a police force that will police the world, and give aid in time of need, as our fleet did recently in the Near East.

TWO GOOD CITIZENS CALLED

IN the passing of William Wood and C. M. Patek within one month of each other, Brainerd has lost two good citizens who contributed much to its life by investing themselves in such undertakings as appealed to their respective natures.

Both of these men came from Wisconsin to Brainerd, Mr. Wood coming from Eau Claire and Mr. Patek from Milwaukee. The first named was born in Canada and the second in Bohemia. These men were not alike in physique or in their attitude to life. Mr. Wood loved the out-of-doors and his calling took him into the open where as "cruiser" and lumberman he became acquainted with nature's handiwork. Mr. Patek, while a lover of nature, was occupied with affairs that held him in business houses, but his pleasure in going out to his summer home was a very real one.

Both of these citizens had a real pleasure in watching the growth of this city and neither of them felt like leaving the community in which they had spent so many years. In this city they had many friends, their interests had become centered here, and both had a unique pride in watching any developments that promised future good.

Both of these men were diligent readers, though their reading led them into different fields to study, but in this they were as one, both were admirers of Theodore Roosevelt and read and re-read his biography. Mr. Wood was peculiarly interested in history and his books gave evidence of considerable wear, while Mr. Patek's mind traveled along philosophical lines and he gave much attention to philosophy. Those who were acquainted with these men learned that as the end of life approached they sought to find, through their reading, a satisfactory meaning for life, the world, and the purpose that lies behind it.

Both were good citizens, both had many friends, both were highly esteemed. The diverse characteristics of their natures led to different friendships and to differing reactions to life. But the characteristics in which they differed were in each case good and supplemented each other.

Two good citizens have fallen, both of whom were honorable, honest, manly men, whose memory will live in the city to which they contributed their enterprise and in which they expressed themselves in their various relationships.

PARIS has been captured by the "windmill dance." The dancers move like a windmill and the physical exercise offered is said to be beneficial. After the fox trot the bunny hug, and after the hug the windmill.

WOMEN talk more than men, and a scientist has explained the reason why. He says that more men than women "cannot put two words together intelligently." But that is the best of what he says about women talking.

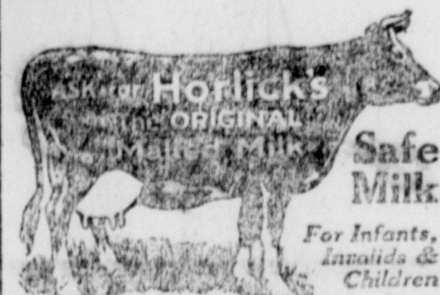

The women have come to the defence of their husbands after they were attacked by a "Miss." But if the maiden lady had spoken well of husbands the story might have been different.

EVEN the American relief organization is criticized by the Russians. Suspicion breeds suspicion until the best is not immune from attack.

OUR AMERICAN NAVY

BUT recently the American navy was used for the purpose that reflects credit upon the United States. Thousands of Greeks, driven from their homes by the victorious advance of the Turks, were huddled together at the water's edge awaiting an opportunity to escape from the threat of brutal treatment that was hanging over their heads, and these were taken aboard American war vessels, where they were given every attention and then conveyed to points of safety.

At this time, when those who are interested in conserving the world's peace, are in many cases seeking to obstruct any measures that are taken to hold the navy at a high point of efficiency, it would be well for citizens to correctly appraise a navy's values and uses. Despite the argument that militarism may be built up as a response to some other country's increase in naval strength, it must be borne in mind that a navy is a defensive, not an offensive weapon. The development of militarism, or large armies, because some other country is building up its navy is not excusable when the facts are all in. Navalism represents a country's attitude to national defense, militarism indicates a policy that holds within it an implied threat of conquest.

Because a navy is a defensive weapon it is unwise for any nation to allow its fleet to become depleted or obsolete so long as other nations are holding multitudes of men under arms, so that, at any time, they may be turned against a people who happens to provoke anger through some international decision.

Of course it would be splendid if we could scrap the ships as it would be fine if we could save the cost of a police department, but while such decisions would be splendid and fine in given conditions, those conditions have not yet arrived. When human nature becomes perfect we won't need any laws, and a society that needs not law will not require officers to enforce laws that are no longer necessary. This is obviously true of the wider relations between nation and nation. But so long as conditions are what they are, they must be taken for what they are, and not as idealistic, which they are not.

Secretaries Denby and Roosevelt should have the backing of Americans in their demand that the navy be kept up to the best standard of this age, while these continue to hope that by sensible adjustments, and an improvement in the temper of the peoples, the navies of the world may be reduced to the limit of a police force that will police the world, and give aid in time of need, as our fleet did recently in the Near East.

TWO GOOD CITIZENS CALLED

IN the passing of William Wood and C. M. Patek within one month of each other, Brainerd has lost two good citizens who contributed much to its life by investing themselves in such undertakings as appealed to their respective natures.

Both of these men came from Wisconsin to Brainerd, Mr. Wood coming from Eau Claire and Mr. Patek from Milwaukee. The first named was born in Canada and the second in Bohemia. These men were not alike in physique or in their attitude to life. Mr. Wood loved the out-of-doors and his calling took him into the open where as "cruiser" and lumberman he became acquainted with nature's handiwork. Mr. Patek, while a lover of nature, was occupied with affairs that held him in business houses, but his pleasure in going out to his summer home was a very real one.

Both of these citizens had a real pleasure in watching the growth of this city and neither of them felt like leaving the community in which they had spent so many years. In this city they had many friends, their interests had become centered here, and both had a unique pride in watching any developments that promised future good.

Both of these men were diligent readers, though their reading led them into different fields to study, but in this they were as one, both were admirers of Theodore Roosevelt and read and re-read his biography. Mr. Wood was peculiarly interested in history and his books give evidence of considerable wear, while Mr. Patek's mind traveled along philosophical lines and he gave much attention to philosophy. Those who were acquainted with these men learned that as the end of life approached they sought to find, through their reading, a satisfactory meaning for life, the world, and the purpose that lies behind it.

Both were good citizens, both had many friends, both were highly esteemed. The divisive characteristics of their natures led to different friendships and to differing reactions to life. But the characteristics in which they differed were in each case good and supplemented each other.

Two good citizens have fallen, both of whom were honorable, honest, manly men, whose memory will live in the city to which they contributed their enterprise and in which they expressed themselves in their various relationships.

PARIS has been captured by the "windmill dance." The dancers move like a windmill and the physical exercise offered is said to be beneficial. After the fox trot the bunny hug, and after the hug the windmill.

WOMEN talk more than men, and a scientist has explained the reason why. He says that more men than women "cannot put two words together intelligently." But that is the best of what he says about women talking.

The women have come to the defence of their husbands after they were attacked by a "Miss." But if the maiden lady had spoken well of husbands the story might have been different.

EVEN the American relief organization is criticized by the Russians. Suspicion breeds suspicion until the best is not immune from attack.

THREE TEAMS LOOM IN A. L. FIGHT

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Jan. 12 (United Press).—There is a general inclination in baseball circles to consider rather lightly the New York Yankees as factors in the next pennant race.

Why?—Because no strength has been added to the club.

A team that has won two successive pennants should not be in need of reinforcements, when it is a fairly young club.

The Yankees are not an old team and while the club has not secured any more new stars, the Huggins club ought to be stronger in 1923.

The pitchers can't be any worse next year and the chances are they will be improved.

Babe Ruth will be another person and when he is paying strict attention to his business, he will be a great help to the club.

Bob Meusel, too, after being shown that he is a person of small importance on the team might work up some pep, the lack of which has prevented him from becoming a wonderful ball player.

With the Detroit Tigers and the Chicago White Sox in the race with them, the Yankees will have no runaway. The St. Louis Browns are dangerous and the Cleveland Indians are building.

The Tigers and the White Sox look like the strongest contenders. Ty Cobb has gathered himself a great team. Del Pratt at second base and Rip Collins added to his pitching staff will mean much.

Much depends, however, on the recovery of Harry Heilmann, the great batting outfielder, who broke his shoulder late last season.

It was reported recently that the bone was not knitting properly and that physicians had told Heilmann they were not sure that he would be able to swing a bat again.

Kid Gleason will have a sweet looking team of White Sox if Willie Kamm, the $100,000 third baseman from the Pacific Coast League, delivers according to expectations.

Kamm or no Kamm, the Sox look fine as they are, but a sensational hitting and fielding infielder may be the difference between the pennant and the contender.

Kid Gleason deserves to be rated as one of the greatest managers in the game. After his housecleaning of 1920 he had nothing left but a second baseman, a catcher and a pitcher that later deserted him.

In two years time he collected a team that isn't far removed from the championship class and might get there next season.

In the same class with Gleason as a builder, is the Hon. Sir Patrick Moran, of the Cincinnati Reds.

Pat had a pennant winner and a world's champion outfit in 1919, but the glory went to the heads of the boys and Pat, being of one-hoss ideas, canned almost the whole team.

Of the 1919 champions only Daubert, Roush, Duncan, Wingo and Luque remain.

In three years, Moran has assembled a team that looks like the one that has to be beaten for the next National League pennant.

Despite the frequency with which his structures have crashed under the weight of mid-season burdens, Connie Mack is a builder himself and his Athletics are going to get there—not next season, but not many after that.

Mack has started to spend money and he doesn't need much more to get a fighting first division team.

Baking Powder—that's the big thing in successful baking

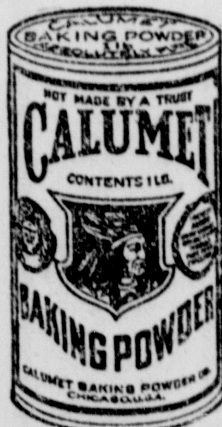

It determines failure or success in baking, more than any other ingredient.

If you do not always have satisfactory bakings, change to Calumet for just one trial.

It is pure: containing only such ingredients as have been officially approved by U. S. Food Authorities.

Within the Calumet factories—the largest and most sanitary on earth—hundreds of skilled workers clad in white are busily engaged in producing the baking powder that is used by millions. Human hands never touch it. Its sale is 2½ times as much as that of any other brand. Pure in the making—pure in the baking.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 ounces. Some baking powders come in 12 ounce instead of 16 ounce cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

Advancement in Japan.

A Japanese professor has started a campaign to change the cut of the typical Japanese garment and thereby save the people $80,000,000 annually. The change contemplates the abolition of the custom of making sleeves with a surplus of material in them of the kimono type. There is considerable interest in the movement but it lacks the stamp of official approval. This is likely to come later.

KELLOGG'S BRAN gives permanent relief because it is ALL BRAN!

With the most dangerous diseases close on the trail of sufferers from constipation, there's no time to waste on foods with a low bran content! The one answer to constipation is BRAN that is ALL BRAN! That's why you should eat Kellogg's—and eat it regularly; at least two table-spoonfuls daily; as much with each meal in chronic cases! KELLOGG'S BRAN IS SCIENTIFICALLY PREPARED TO RELIEVE SUFFERING HUMANITY AS NO OTHER FOOD CAN!

Don't delay a minute! Get started on Kellogg's Bran to-day and your health will steadily improve and bowel conditions return to normal, no matter how long you have suffered with constipation, mild or chronic.

Remember that Kellogg's Bran is not an artificial laxative, but nature's own bulk food that acts as sweeper, cleanser and purifier. Its work for health is wonderful! Besides, bran contains the most valuable mineral salts and other life-sustaining elements—it is a blood maker and bone and tissue-builder!

Kellogg's Bran, being cooked and krumbled, is delicious eaten as a cereal, or sprinkled on hot or cold cereals. Another happy way to serve Kellogg's Bran is to cook it with your favorite hot cereal. In preparation, add two table-spoonfuls of bran for each person, cooking the cereal as usual.

You can make the most delightful muffins, raisin bread, pancakes, macaroons, etc., with Kellogg's Bran—and it's fine in gravies, soups and purees.

The big thing is to get started on Kellogg's Bran quickly—for the sake of the health of your entire family—AND SERVE IT REGULARLY! First-class hotels and clubs serve Kellogg's Bran in individual packages. Ask for it at your restaurant!
